Striking Railroaders Returning To Their Jobs In Many Areas

Back-To-Work Movement Is Well Under Way

Wildcat Strike Is Ending In Most All Areas But Chicago

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(INS)—Striking railroad workers were returning to their jobs in most parts of the nation today and a union spokesman reported "pretty good progress" in negotiations to end the dispute.

Hearst's response to Defense Mobilizer Wilson's appeal to the strikers, the National Mediation Board resumed talks in an effort to end the economy-crushing controversy.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Striking railroad workers began returning to work today in response to a direct appeal by Defense Mobilizer Wilson.

Government mediators reported no progress, however, toward ending the lengthy dispute which has crippled the nation's economy. They held a six-hour night session and were to resume mediation conferences today.

Well Under Way
The back-to-work movement appeared well underway. The rail crossroads of Chicago remained tied up but a small number of strikers in that key transportation center "promised" to show up this morning.

Workers who had reported "sick" were returning to work in New York, Philadelphia, Washington, (Continued on Page Two)

PA NEWS OBSERVES
Few local residents can recall any period of time in many years past in which ice clung to the branches of trees for a week or more as has been the situation in many parts of the city during the past eight or nine days. The trees became ice-coated a week ago Sunday, and the ice was still clinging to the trees this morning.

Local residents and store owners have been taking advantage of the slight thaw which has been experienced over the past 24 hours by removing accumulation of ice from the sidewalks. City workmen were busily engaged with pick and shovel this morning in removing the mounds of ice from downtown intersections in order that pedestrians could cross the streets safely.

Some district truck owner, who lost one of his license plates, will find it attached to a no-parking sign near the corner of Mill and North streets. Some thoughtful person picked the tag up and placed it on the sign.

Residents were startled last night in various parts of the city by loud crashing sounds, which sounded like the roof was coming off. Investigation revealed that accumulation of snow and ice were sliding from the roofs to the ground. The noise awakened many residents who were settled for their night's rest.

Although the hands have been replaced on the First Christian church clock for some little time, workmen have not yet placed them at the correct time. The hands move about but are several hours slower than the correct time, much to the confusion of downtowners and strangers.

Soviet Bloc In U.N. Develops New Boycott

Refuses To Give Recognition To Secretary Lie

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 6.—The Soviet bloc instituted a new kind of boycott against U. N. today by refusing to recognize Secretary General Trygve Lie.

Peiping's Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai sent communications to U. N. denouncing the assembly's action in branding Red China an aggressor in Korea but he addressed each conspicuously to "the office of the secretariat."

A top U. N. source disclosed at the same time that since yesterday, all letters received from the Soviet bloc have been "very pointedly" addressed to "the office of the secretariat."

One western spokesman said: "It is obviously more than coincidence that from the far ends of the Iron Curtain lands—from Peiping to Moscow through the Balkan satellites—the name of Trygve Lie as U. N. secretary general is suddenly forgotten and U. N. becomes merely a postoffice address at Lake Success."

Cause Of Boycott
The new boycott results from Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky's bitter opposition last November to the extension of Lie's term as secretary general for another three years. The U. S. led the fight for keeping Lie, drawing fire from the Soviet bloc that the Norwegian diplomat had become an American puppet.

Lie refused comment and said recently he is accustomed "to being ignored or called either a puppet or a lackey."

Complete Plans For Air Alert

Plans for the "Air Alert" on Saturday and Sunday were outlined to a group of Civil Defense workers in the court house Monday night.

Volunteer fire department members, constables, justices of the peace and township supervisors were present to get information from Defense Deputy Co-ordinator Paul G. Dingley, Sheriff Frank L. Coen and A. A. Webb.

When the alert comes through from Detroit to the Butler fire station, Butler will relay the message to Sheriff Coen. He in turn will alert the New Castle city hall, Bessemer and New Wilmington.

Sirens are being prepared for the alert.

Demand Removal Of Two R.F.C. Directors

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(INS)—A Democratic demand for removal of two Reconstruction Finance Corp. directors followed today a senate report on "influence and favoritism" in the huge government loan agency.

Sen. Frear (D) Del., who took part in the investigation which resulted in the headline-making report, said that he felt directors Walter L. Dunham and William E. Willett "should be taken off the board now."

Fifth Atomic Blast Occurs At Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Feb. 6.—(INS)—Las Vegas was rocked today by the fifth and perhaps the largest in the series of atomic explosions set off at the Atomic Energy Commission Frenchman's Flat Proving Grounds in south-eastern Nevada.

The terrific, blinding glare of the atomic blast lit up the morning skies and was followed seconds later by the rumbling roar of concussion, now familiar to the residents of Las Vegas.

All of southern Nevada had been braced for this morning's blast for the past two days—ever since the AEC warned that it would be foolish to stand near windows that might shatter from the terrific concussion of the explosive being tested at Indian Springs, some 75 miles from Las Vegas.

The glare from the atomic explosion was visible for hundreds of miles.

Observers timed the explosion at 8:47 a. m. EST.

Fire Sirens To Be Heard Here

If you hear the fire sirens blowing like mad Saturday afternoon and Sunday afternoon, don't look for the fire equipment.

That is if the siren blasts are the ones we're about to describe. First you will hear three short blasts and then a long three minute blast. This will be a test alert of approaching planes. Later you will hear a blast, a two minute rest, another blast, another two minute rest and then a third blast. This will be the all clear signal.

Fire calls are blown with an ascending tone by the volunteer companies in the rural districts.

In New Castle the old fire siren will be mounted at the Grasselli chemical plant.

Paris Paper Says Radioactive Clouds Carried To Russia

PARIS, Feb. 6.—(INS)—The Paris newspaper Le Monde said today that radioactive clouds from the atomic explosions in Nevada reportedly have been carried as far as Russia.

The newspaper said if this is so, Soviet physicists would have been able to obtain information regarding the American nuclear explosions. It added:

"It seems that if Russian observers have received artificial atoms from Nevada they would be able to conclude primarily that projectiles fired on the new American shooting range are not simply a bluff."

TWO BURN TO DEATH

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 6.—(INS)—Two persons were burned to death and three others injured today when fire swept a frame rooming house in Camden.

The dead were George Waples, 70, and Mrs. Mildred Tribbett, 70, both occupants of first floor rooms.

Injured were Mrs. Tibbett's daughter, Barbara, 9, and Mrs. Bertha Pratt, 29, and William Harden, 59. Harden jumped from his third floor room to a rear yard.

Says Marshall Plan Aid Must Be Continued

President Sees Need Of Extending Aid To Europeans

By ROBERT E. CLARK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—President Truman reported today that Marshall Plan aid must continue to bolster Western Europe's standard of living or European rearmament may become "highly unpopular."

The President sent to Congress a tenth quarterly report on the European aid program that declared, "Europeans have no quarrel with the need to rearm, and rearm quickly." But the report warned:

"If the cost of rearmament is to sacrifice the economic gains of the past two and one-half years, rearmament may become highly unpopular in Western Europe."

Must Be Assured
The Economic Cooperation Administration emphasized that Europe must be assured that the free world is "pressing forward simultaneously with the still urgent tasks of economic improvement" while making adequate plans for European defense.

It reported that Western Europe's production in the third quarter of 1950 hit an all-time peak, one-third above the prewar level and 13 percent above the previous year.

The report said "remarkable progress" under the Marshall Plan made it possible for Europe to undertake the rearmament necessary to resist the Communist threat.

Congressmen Are Divided On Tax Setup

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—President Truman's fiscal experts worked today on new tax increases while Congress reeled under the impact of the 10 billion dollar revenue boost already requested.

Although the blow was not unexpected, it nevertheless left the 25-member House Ways and Means committee indecisive over future action after hearing Treasury Secretary Snyder outline the program.

Snyder made it plain that his experts are already working on the "second installment" in the administration's tax program. It is designed to bring in still another 6.5 billion dollars to close the gap in an estimated 16.5 billion dollar deficit for the 1952 fiscal year which begins July 1.

Committee Divided

Snyder's recommendations on how to raise the 10 billion dollars left the committee sharply divided. There was no unanimity on any of his proposals which called for increases of four billion dollars in individual income taxes and three billion each in corporation and excise levies.

Snyder's frank admission that most of the corporation taxes would probably be passed on to the consumer did not make them more palatable because it meant that practically the entire 10 billion dollars would have to be paid by the individual taxpayer.

Snyder declined to tell the committee that treasury's plans for raising the "second installment" (Continued on Page Two)

Chinese Suffer Casualties In Hundred To One Ratio

By ROBERT CHAKNE
(I. N. S. War Correspondent)
U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Feb. 6.—Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway disclosed today that casualties in the ratio of 100 to 1 have been inflicted on the Chinese in some instances of the current United Nations "limited offensive."

The U. S. Eighth Army commander in Korea, who declined to be quoted directly, said it was his aim to inflict maximum losses on the enemy at a minimum cost to the Allies.

Ridgway told newsmen the United Nations army would pick its own time and place for any offensive or defensive action. Can Push Into Enemy Territory

Fire Destroys Fire Fighting Machine Monday

In an unusual fire fought Monday evening by Shenango township volunteer fire department, a large mobile fire extinguisher was destroyed at the Tide Water Oil Company Storage plant in East New Castle, on the Ellwood road, Route 88.

The fire broke out in a small storage building where the mobile fire extinguisher was kept on hand in case of fire among the large gasoline storage tanks. A small gas stove kept in the building to keep it warm, overheated and caught the building and contents on fire. In addition to badly damaging the fire extinguisher, a large amount of hose was destroyed along with other materials with total damage estimated at $500.

Theo Speck, manager of the Oil Company, remained on the job after the fire to see that it did not break out again. After he left the scene, the firemen were recalled to the property, a short distance away from the East New Castle station, at 2:30 a. m. as the fire had started again. The building was stripped and everything taken out by firemen to prevent any further damage.

Had the fire spread, firemen reported, much damage would have occurred to property in the district, due to the large amount of gasoline stored in the adjacent tanks.

Freight Yard Crews Return To Work At Philadelphia Today

A spokesman said hourly service between Philadelphia, New York and Washington is back to normal. Trains leaving New York and Washington are being manned by regular crews, he said, although those leaving New York still have some volunteers.

All local commuter service returned to normal beginning with the eight a. m. trick.

G.O.P. Seeks Foreign Policy To 'Avoid World War III'

By WILLIAM THEISS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Congressional Republicans, honoring Lincoln and eyeing the White House, put their 1952 campaign emphasis today on shaping a foreign policy to "avoid World War III."

That was the major theme sounded by GOP speakers who launched the annual series of Lincoln day celebrations at a heavily attended box supper rally in Washington.

Sponsors of the rally announced that more than 12,000 persons attended and that 9,500 of them bought the $1 chicken box supper.

Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, who won the outstanding ovation at last year's capital celebration of Lincoln's birthday, shared the honors in volume of applause last night with Sen. McCarthy (R) Wis.

Freight-Hauling Trucks Are Given Priority Orders

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(INS)—The government today ordered the nation's freight-hauling trucks to give priority to shipments for the military atomic energy commission and U. S. mail.

Defense Transport Administrator James K. Knutson said the order was necessary to insure handling of these types of shipments because of the rail strike. Knutson's order requires every motor carrier engaged in the transportation "in over-the-road" service to give preference and priority over all regular commercial shipments.

Effective immediately, the order said the trucks are not prohibited from accepting regular commercial shipments as long as they move the "priority" freight first.

Thousands More Resisting Reds Are Knocked Out

Armored Columns Make Another Dash Along Wide Front

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Feb. 6.—United Nations troops rammed within 25 miles of Korea's 38th Parallel today in a five-mile northward push up the east flank of an offensive that knocked out more thousands of resisting Red soldiers.

On the west wing of the crushing drive along a 65-mile front, tank-powered American armored columns drove into and, through Anyang, seven miles south of Seoul, for a second time in two days.

They pulled back at dusk Tuesday for the usual overnight stand after engaging in battles north and west of Anyang with reinforced Chinese units using self-propelled artillery, anti-tank guns and other weapons.

As the enemy's manpower losses neared 80,000 for the 13 days since the UN offensive began, front-line intelligence officers said two American armored task forces killed or wounded 1,500 Reds at and near Anyang Tuesday. These included some 800 dead.

U. N. Casualties Light

A late dispatch from the blazing west sector said the day's UN casualties were "light by comparison" with the Chinese losses which included many additional hundreds mowed down by allied artillery and aircraft.

Thousands of Chinese troops in the hills overlooking Seoul from the south faced possible entrapment within the jaws of allied pincers punching north along the west and central sectors. In the latter area, allied troops threatened an important road stretching northeast to pivotal Chunchon from Seoul.

UN forces, smashing into the North Korean fifth corps on the mountainous inland section of the offensive, reached a point 45 miles northeast of Seoul in a threat to outflank and envelop the Chinese defending the Red-occupied capital.

Superintendent Of Pittsburgh Incline Is Badly Hurt

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 6.—(INS)—W. Homer Ackard, 66-year-old superintendent of the Monongahela incline in Pittsburgh, suffered possible fractures of the back, chest and arms today when a down car knocked him 25 feet to the ground.

Ackard was oiling the pulleys when the accident occurred.

A witness, policeman Howard Moyer, said Ackard was pinned under the car several minutes before he fell. Moyer said:

"The incline car operator tried to jockey the inclines to free Ackard without running over him. Ackard finally pulled himself loose but couldn't hold on."

Beyond Hoengsong

His field dispatch said South Korean troops, backed by American tanks, artillery and planes, were pacing the northward assault beyond the mid-Korean hub of Hoengsong, and were meeting "stiffening" Communist resistance.

The triple pronged UN drive up the Hoengsong-Hongchon road and along both sides of the artery sent one vanguard toward the vital communications center of Chuncheon to within 25 miles of parallel 38. Ferrero reported. The parallel forms the artificial boundary between South and North Korea.

UN spearheads thus threatened to cut the rail-highway life line leading through Chuncheon to Seoul from the northeast.

The allied push, aided by the Korean war's biggest artillery and tank battalions as well as air blows and navy shellfire, was officially described as an effort to destroy the Red invasion forces, the enemy was estimated to have suffered some 57,000 casualties since the drive began 13 days ago.

Renew Advance

Along the west flank of the quaking front, three powerful American tank-led columns renewed their northward advance at dawn Tuesday and the central column, known as "task force Dolvin", smashed again into Anyang. That gateway junction is seven miles south of Seoul, Communist-held Korean capital.

Resumption of this advance into and around both sides of Anyang was reported by International News Service War Correspondent Frank Conniff at 7 p. m. Tuesday (5 a. m., EST) in a dispatch delayed by field censorship for nine hours.

Conniff quoted front-line Eighth Army officers as saying they "hope to trap thousands of Chinese in the Korean hills" adjoining Seoul's southern Han river limit.

West of Anyang, task force Bartlett, consisting largely of Negro tankmen, reported meeting heavy Red resistance. But its officers said that column was "killing the Chinese wholesale in the bloodiest new year's celebration of recent Chinese history."

Two Meat Control Orders Will Be Issued Shortly

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 6.—(INS)—Price Administrator Michael V. DiSalle said last night he is preparing to issue two meat control orders which will enable the government to keep track of supplies from the slaughterhouse to the butcher's counter.

In his first speech as the nation's price chief, the former mayor of Toledo said new controls will include an order licensing slaughterhouses and regulating their output and a later directive to "keep meat supplies moving through legitimate channels of distribution."

DiSalle's aids explained the first order will distribute the supply of livestock only to licensed, established slaughterhouses and make it difficult for unlicensed, fly-by-night slaughterers to obtain animals for black market operations.

The second directive may require both wholesale and retail meat dealers to make regular reports—a move that might eliminate illegal distributors and "dummy" middlemen, DiSalle explained.

"If supplies move out of regular, legitimate channels into the black market, we can know about it quickly. Our enforcement officers can move promptly against black marketers."

ton, Cincinnati, Detroit, Loganport, Ind., Atlanta, Birmingham, Dallas and Los Angeles.

Even as the rail switchmen went back to work on the eighth day of their walkout, there were new shutdowns in industry and industrial layoffs exceeded 300,000.

Railroad spokesmen warned that "it may take three or four weeks to get service completely back to normal" even if all the strikers return to work immediately.

Appeals To Strikers

The movement started after Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson appealed to the strikers to return to work to resume the strike halted flow of tanks, guns and other supplies to U. S. forces in Korea. He said further delay in shipments would cost the lives of American soldiers.

Wilson's appeal was augmented by one made by W. P. Kennedy, president of the trainmen's union, to which the striking switchmen belong, who said the back-to-work movement was "very encouraging."

Kennedy declared: "I asked the men to go back to work and a lot of them are responding to my personal request." Kennedy and other heads of the big four operating brotherhoods will resume negotiations with the mediation board at 11 a. m.

Wilson spoke last night for President Truman. In a dramatic radio and television broadcast he told the strikers:

"You have no right to stop your country's defense efforts."

Can Hurt U. S.

"I know you don't realize it—but the fact is that what you are doing now can very soon hurt the United States more every day than all the Communist armies in Korea put together."

The defense mobilizer said that the strike, which has cut rail movement an estimated 90 per cent, filled the rail yards with idle cars and caused unemployment in basic industries, is paralyzing the United States during "the greatest danger in our history."

Wilson asked the strikers "to accept your responsibility as Americans to our fighting men in Korea, to your fellow countrymen. I ask you to report for work on your next shift. Don't put it off. Settle this with your own conscience."

Further delay in shipments, Wilson said, could cost the lives of American soldiers fighting in Korea.

The return to work was reported in a number of eastern rail centers, and the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad rescheduled 16 through trains that were cancelled yesterday.

But no appreciable improvement was noted in the west and middle west, where food, arms and vital industrial shipments are sitting idle in railroad yards.

Close Tax Loopholes

However, he indicated that the treasury expects to recommend closing of tax loopholes which would bring in 1.5 billion dollars; more and increased excise taxes, including possibly taxes on used car sales, food, rent and clothing, furniture, rugs, etc.; and "adjusted" individual income taxes, mostly upward. Snyder did not definitely rule out the possibility of a national sales tax or a reduction in the $800 individual exemption.

The secretary remarked: "There's quite a field left open. We may have to go into all those fields before we come to grips with the final phase of our program."

The administration's "first installment" contemplates a four percentage point boost in the 20 to 30 per cent individual income taxes, and an eight percentage point rise in the 25 to 55 per cent corporations tax.

Excise tax increases included: beer, $8 to $12 per barrel; gasoline 1 1/2 to 3 cents a gallon; liquor, $9 to $12 per gallon; cigarettes, 7 to 10 cents per pack; and 10 to 20 per cent on electrical, gas and oil appliances.

Although little surprise was caused at U. N. by Russia's action in touching off the boycott against Lie, the receipt of two messages from Peiping carefully imitating the formula from behind the European iron curtain elicited extensive comment.

The majority of western delegates interpreted it as proof of the deep extent to which Peiping functions under direct instruction from Moscow. It is regarded as further evidence that any hope of Mao Tse-Tung leaning away from Moscow is an illusion.

Taft joined other GOP leaders in accusing the Truman administration of bringing America to the brink of war with its foreign policy.

Sen. Duff (R) Pa., in his first major statement since entering the senate, criticized the Truman administration for failing to give the people a "clear definition" of the country's foreign policy.

Duff said: "Gigantic blunders of foreign policy have brought us to the brink of the disaster we now face. This is the result of what happened at Teheran, at Yalta, from the demobilization of our armed forces before peace was secured, and from making commitments in far off places of the world without keeping our armed force equal to those commitments."

Duff added: "The Democrats got us into this confusion. Let's give the Republicans a chance to get us out."

Rep. Judd (R) Minn., urged that full use be made of all anti-communist forces in Asia against the Chinese communists in Korea.

BEVERLY WHITE WEDS WILLIAM R. PAPST

Second U. P. church was the scene of one of the loveliest weddings of the current season when Miss Beverly Ann White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Zimmerman, 321 Winter avenue, was married to William Richard Papst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Papst, 1407 Albert street, Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Dr. J. Calvin Rose, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony. White gladioli, white carnations and palms and ferns were featured in the festive altar arrangement. Mrs. Jacob Jordan was at the organ for a half hour prelude of nuptial selections and was accompanist for Miss Ruth Simon, classmate of the bride, who sang "O Promise Me," "Bridal Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, carried an orchid on a prayer book to complement her attractive wedding costume. The gown was styled with an illusion neckline outlined with Chantilly lace trimmed with seed pearls, giving an off-the-shoulder effect. Chantilly lace cascaded down the front of the gown and a full length train was a charming detail of the skirt. The fingertip length veil was held to a crown of seed pearls. She wore a sapphire from Swansea, Wales, in her shoe.

Miss Barbara Jayne White served her sister as maid of honor and the bridesmaids were the Misses Shirley Arrow and Muriel Van Dyke. Miss White wore a champagne gown and the bridesmaids were in gowns of orchid and melon with hats to match. The attendants' colonial bouquets were made up in shades to harmonize with their frocks.

Frank A. Papst served his brother as best man and the ushers were Robert White, Paul Gibson and James Furst.

A reception for 125 guests was held in the Memorial Annex of the church following the ceremony. Miss Betty Arrow and Miss Joan Kopyrowsky poured at the bride's table, which was prettily appointed in a pink and white bridal motif. Mrs. Florence Wolfe cut the cake and Miss Judith Ann Sidley presided at the bridal book.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Papst entertained for a honeymoon trip to New York City. They will take up residence at 123 Osborne avenue, Morrisville, Pa., upon their return.

Young people are graduates of the New Castle high school with the class of 1950. Mrs. Papst is a former employee of the G. C. Murphy company while her husband is affiliated with the Trenton Pottery company, Trenton, N. J.

WINTERS ARE DIFFERENT

Not much has been heard this winter to the effect that winters are different than they were 40 or 50 years ago. If winters long ago were colder than the temperatures that have prevailed this winter over a large part of the nation, they were humdrums. Not for years have there been so many news items of the temperature dropping so low that the mercury in thermometers froze. Mercury freezes at 38 degrees below zero.

But if this winter has not been greatly different meteorologically from those of a half century ago, it has been different in many other ways. Weather years ago did not have the impact upon transportation that it now has. Trains stopped running when snow became too deep, and horse transportation was interfered with, but people expected such occurrences every winter and were prepared for them.

There was plenty of food in the cellar and there was no danger of starvation if it became inconvenient to dash to the nearest store. Today if the average household is cut off from its food suppliers for three days, the cuisine becomes mighty limited.

If electric current was disrupted by a storm in the old days, it made little difference to the average citizen whose house wasn't wired anyway. It didn't shut down his heating system, which was hand fired and probably used wood as fuel, nor interfere with his refrigeration, which was provided by nature.

The greatest inconvenience caused by weather which swept down from the arctic regions, in the old days, was the nightly freezing of the pump. Buckets of boiling water were required to get it going again in the morning, but this accomplished life resumed its smooth course and worries were less technological than is the case today.

STILL THE DETERRENT

The series of nuclear detonations near Las Vegas, Nev., point toward an obvious conclusion. Since they were of varying explosive power, American scientists now know how to put up atomic materials in packages to produce different effects. The atomic bomb has been succeeded, apparently, by a number of atomic weapons.

This, in the kind of world Americans must live in whether they like it or not, must be regarded as good news. The fact that American scientists can set off a series of nuclear explosions in a period of days is proof that their efforts to learn more about atomic energy have been fruitful. It will not restore the sense of relative security Americans had before it was announced that Russia had succeeded in producing an atomic bomb.

Actually, American superiority in the field of atomic weapons may be the only thing that stands in the way of a direct Russian attack on the free nations. At a recent press conference, Air Force Secretary Thomas K. Fineletter drew a sharp line between air power that is deterrent to war and air power that is chiefly valuable in winning a war after it starts. He said that American long-range aircraft, capable of striking with atomic weapons inside the territory of a potential enemy, is a preventive of war. Planes for the support of ground troops are not.

That was tantamount to an assertion that this country is still relying on its bombers and atomic bombs to deter Russia while it is building up armed strength to match that of the Reds if and when the Kremlin no longer fears America's stock of atomic bombs.

But the U. S. now apparently has other nuclear weapons weapons possessing a scope and flexibility not thought of even a year ago. The Russians must weigh this new situation carefully before they take an irrevocable step.

EISENHOWER'S JOB

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower has undertaken one of the toughest jobs in his long military career. He was named to head the armed forces of the Atlantic Pact nations when there were no such forces. Not only was he to become commander-in-chief of any such army, but it was his task to bring one into being.

Are the nations which asked for General Eisenhower's services doing their full part in helping to build up the military strength of Western Europe? General Eisenhower, after a survey of Europe, says he is confident Europe will do its part. But Eisenhower had no choice. Had he arrived at different conclusions, voicing them would have been tantamount to throwing in the towel.

Adequate military strength in Western Europe, plus the rearming of Germany, would stop Russia cold, in the opinion of many of the world's top military strategists.

In Canada a wolf was clocked at a speed of 40 miles per hour. Can't hunt many doors at that rate.

New York's Natural History museum outdraws its baseball parks. Naturally. What can be bigger big league than dinosaurs?

Wear bright colors on a stormy wintry day, advises a safety council spokesman. And become an even more enticing target for schoolboy snowballs?

Future Role Of Italy

The future role of Italy in the defense of a European continent rearming against the threat of Soviet aggression came to the forefront of attention today.

Reports in Rome that Premier Alcide de Gasperi of Italy will visit Washington for a conference with President Truman emphasizing the already deep and growing feeling among the Italian people that they have a manifest destiny in the world struggle against Communist atheism.

As a matter of record, Italy was the first of the continental nations to offer visible and tangible military cooperation almost a matter of moments after Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was dispatched to Europe to study the continent's defense potentials.

Defense Minister Rinaldo Ossola announced that Italy had three seasoned divisions of crack troops prepared to take the field at any moment.

Would Be Available

He said this force would be available to Gen. Eisenhower without strings and without reservations.

And the desire and determination of Italy to participate as fully as possible in West European defense was not modified by later government statements stressing the need for financial assistance and the desire for modification of the existing peace treaty with the Allied nations.

The peace treaty angle is bound up inextricably with the question of rearmament and defense.

Italy has presented a case for some sort of representation in control of the North African colonies which were developed to such a high degree under the leadership of Benito Mussolini, whose abilities in the field of colonization rarely have been questioned.

Present-day Italy, virtually cleansed of the taint of fascism, is over-populated; much of its soil is worked out and dry.

Land reforms which include the dismemberment of huge feudal estates for distribution among the working peasantry have encountered much opposition. Steps are being taken in the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies, but progress admittedly will be slow.

Critique Type Of Assistance

Observers familiar with the peculiar and particular problems of Italy have found fault with the type of assistance extended by the United States in the years immediately following the end of the Second World War.

Complicated machinery—unable in the hands of Italian farmers who frequently work with the same methods as their great-grandfathers—was far less in value than fertilizer would have been in bringing bombed-out farmlands back to life.

And this is merely one of the factors being cited in support of Italy's desire to send her young men to Africa—to carry on the revival of the desert wastes begun so long ago and to create a reservoir of manpower on a vital route of communications indispensable to the Western Allies in event of another war.

De Gasperi—a deeply patriotic and religious man and a former honorary librarian of the Vatican—is spearheading his country's role in defense on the almost miraculous manner in which a truly militant communism was sent down to defeat in Italy.

Frail In Health

He is frail in health. He has expressed his desire on numerous occasions to retire from active political life.

But always he has responded to public expressions and the definite wish of Italian President Luigi Einaudi that he remain in harness as the one man politically and psychologically capable of keeping the situation in hand.

Gen. Eisenhower's visit to Europe and the tremendous arms expansion that has followed in Great Britain and on the continent have touched off the expected Communist drive against the democracies.

The results are being felt in Italy, as well as in France and elsewhere.

But they have been far less effective in their destructive nature than anticipated in many sources and it has been men like De Gasperi who by the force of their personalities and the inherent conservatism of their natures have staved off any really menacing swerve to the left.

His anticipated visit to Washington may present to America a fresh picture of an Italian nation which to a major extent has thrown off the excesses of fascism and reverted to the plodding determination that first made Rome great.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TALKING, DAWDLING AT MEALS

Many a child from two to eight will talk so much at meals that he neglects his eating. And when two or three of these children do so the problem may be harder.

Now we do want children to talk and share in the family conversation at meals, but when a youngster lets his food grow cold while he talks on and on his mother and father may grow a bit agitated.

Certain Foods

The whole matter is quite complicated. There may have been some earlier resistance to certain foods. Suppose you, Mother, have been somewhat disturbed at this resistance. The talking may appear to you to be his way to avoid a disliked food. So you are annoyed still more at the child and may command him angrily to go on eating. This also means that you incline not to pay attention to what the child says, causing him to talk more and more with the hope that something he says will be heard. And the more failure the child sees in his effort to be heard the more upset he feels emotionally and the poorer appetite for food he had. (My bulletin, "Eating Problems: Their Prevention and Correction" may be had in a stamped envelope, by writing me at 285 East 45th street, New York 17, N. Y.)

Dr. Myers: Would you be able to tell me how to break our daughter, 5, of talking and dawdling at the table. I know there should be some conversation at mealtime but she talks continually, letting her food get cold. It upsets both my husband and myself but he gets angrier than I do and she cannot eat. It's getting so that I dread mealtime and I imagine she feels the same way. When we tell her without scolding that she must stop talking 'til her plate is empty, she plays with her food anyway. She also chews with her mouth open, which is most unappealing.

Leave The Table

"Our son, 6, does none of these things but we do not call her attention to it. We've tried making her leave the table for a short period of time to think it over, telling her when she'll have it if it happens again. She'll have it and not return for it. That did no good. We give her small amounts of food, so it is not that. Her constant talking is annoying to everyone and embarrassing when we have guests. In part my reply was about like this: It is significant that you and your husband are so upset over the matter. I don't see that over the matter. I don't see that anything to get mad about. Obviously this child practically never has an appreciative audience at mealtime. She feels very insecure since her model brother, naturally, gets no rebukes. Just imagine yourself in this girl's place.

Each Meal

You and Dad should calmly assure this daughter at the beginning of each meal that you and he will listen attentively and appreciatively while she talks for, say, two or three minutes. Keep your word.

Then at the end of this time you should remind her that others shall have a turn at talking and she must keep still for so many minutes. If she does not, have her take her plate with ample food on it and go to another room to finish her meal. No reason to be angry then.

Between meals try to help this child gain more ways to feel herself a worthy member of the family and have fun with her playmates. Find more ways of enjoying what she wishes to talk about and cultivate more companionable conversation with her.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

That fellow in Alabama who traded in his donkey on an automobile hasn't started any trend... not with that gas tax that's coming along.

Detroit put the nation on wheels, but Washington can put it on skids quicker.

A few years back we were being promised the full dinner pail, but whoever thought the full gas tank would become an economic problem?

There was a time here we were so prosperous you'd see a fellow light a cigar with a dollar bill and then throw away the cigar... Yesterday I saw a fellow light a dollar bill with a cigar and throw away the bill.

General Eisenhower, doesn't seem to think we can "pick up the world on our economic and financial shoulders" and you can be sure there was no coaching from our native knuckleheads on that quiz question.

Billowing budgets and untenable tax bills sure aren't fluffing up the shoulder pads any, but you've got to admit that trying to save the world on fifty-eight cent dollars is quite a trick.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Last week we wrote about a Displaced Family... it wasn't flattering... we didn't intend the story to be flattering... One reader suggested that we take some of the sting out by telling of the good that has been accomplished by helping other displaced people from overseas. It's true that all those brought to this country under the DP plan have not treated their benefactors as the family we mentioned... there are families in this country right now who are trying hard, very hard, to become good American citizens.

It's absolutely true... that many in this nation can't possibly picture the kind of life that is led by millions "over there". The type of training that is being and has been offered to youth in dictator nations is unbelievable... those who traveled through these nations know the story... but with all their story telling here in the United States... too few can grasp the true picture. Yes, we must have patience... we must attempt to restrain... unwarped minds of the youth who come to this nation from war torn nations. And many good families are attempting this very difficult job.

But when all their work is torn down by such action as we talked about last week... stealing... wire tapping... what should be done? Are we here in America falling down in our obligations? Sometimes it looks that way... what we need is a big poke in the nose to waken us up... We are not sitting on the top of the heap... true we can produce materials in greater quantity... true we are spending more than any other nation... and it's also true that we are fast losing hold of the ideals that made this nation... American citizens must regain control... We are working for the government... Once the government worked for the people.

We love America... the people in it... and we feel that all other citizens should share that love... there is hope in faith.

What Makes Them Click?

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

Luscious Liz Taylor (to use the language of the screen magazines) and wealthy Nicky Hilton (to use his old man's dough) have gotten a divorce after 205 days of marriage.

I was shocked when I read the news.

You see, when Liz and Nick traipsed down the aisle I was one of the few who thought it would last. I went so far as to place a bet, at even money, that they'd stay married 206 days. I was that sure.

If I had known then what I know now I wouldn't have made the bet. It turns out that Liz and Nick were drawn together like two New York taxicabs because they both "adored over-size sweaters, hamburgers with onions, and Ezio Pinza."

That's a quote. I didn't make it up.

Only Two Hobbies

I have only two hobbies. One is making a hard-way four, and the other is finding out what makes marriages click. I have yet to make a hard-way four when it mattered, but I have collected a tremendous amount of data on why boys and girls are attracted to one another, and what makes the boy say, "Will ya marry me?" and the girl answers "Yes."

The big-sweater-hamburger-with-onions-Ezio Pinza approach is new to me. Nowhere in my files do I find anything that even approximates the original bond between Liz and Nick.

The closest thing to it that I have any knowledge of is the union (going on 34 years now) between a Los Angeles woman and her husband. They married because of a common interest in tight-fitting overcoats, Long Island Sound, and ducking with orange sauce. John Philip Sousa, the band leader, happened to Liz and Nicky if, on their first date, he had insisted on a hot dog with mustard, a turtle-neck sweater, and Spike Jones.

TWO LESSONS

I quote from the Scripture to a person in a plight. Who asked if I would talk for him the following Sunday night. Said I: "There's commandment against that which you suggest."

For six days shalt thou labor and the Sabbath is for rest."

Now the Good Book can be quoted for whatever end you choose. But it's dangerous for a layman with a minister to use.

For this is what he answered (and he had me, I admit): "See Luke the fourteenth chapter, of the ox caught in the pit."

Two lessons have been taught me and the first is not to cite the Scripture to a person who would rest on Sunday night; And the other lesson this is, when on Sunday told about. An ox that's deep in trouble I should go and help him out. (Copyright, 1951, Edgar A. Guest)

Would Have Saved Dough

My guess is—if either of the two things mentioned above had happened—Mr. Conrad Hilton, Sr., would have saved a lot of dough. Just a guess, mind you.

Many readers are sure to ask why I am so interested in what goes on in Hollywood.

I have an answer.

I happen to be a man who devours Hollywood news. I won't even get a haircut unless I can read about my screen favorite in a magazine propped just between the barber and the hair that goes down my neck.

I want to know what Peck eats for breakfast. I thrill to the fact that H. Bogart can outshoot all enemies. My whole day is made when I read that Jane Wyman does her own undies just as us ol' people do, that Bob Hope is down to his last dollar and is borrowing from Bing, that John Wayne has been adopted by the Rio Grande river, and is now a full-fledged sandbar, and that Deanna Swanson is old and fat.

The Hollywood people are my heroes and heroines. I won't smoke a cigarette unless they endorse it. I won't risk the softness of my hands until a star has told how she gets a Toni, a manicure, a shine, and a slange by using Old Granddaddy's cleanser.

This is the end of today's talk. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

PHILADELPHIA—Assistant Defense Secretary Anna M. WASHINGTON—Price Administrator DiSalle: "We have appointed a very strong enforcement director, and I am here to pledge to you... that people who do violate the law will be relentlessly prosecuted."

NEW YORK—Baseball Commissioner: "The kicking, dickering and horse trading are traditional parts of the American scene. So also is fair play."

If you attended Metropolitan Opera performances and heard its broadcasts, you will know Salvatore Baccaloni as a robust basso who usually sings comedy roles. He was born in Rome, Italy, April 14, 1900, and studied to be an architect. However, he has sung in operas in his native Rome, Palermo, Bologna, Milan, London, Buenos Aires, San Francisco, Chicago, Berlin and Bern—170 roles in five languages. He lives in Long Island, N. Y.

Herbert Morrison, British political leader was born in England Jan. 3, 1888. He has been mayor of Hackney, National Labor party chairman and minister of transportation. He is the author of several books: "Socialism and Transport," "How Greater London is Governed" and "Looking Ahead." He was minister of home security until May, 1945, and is now president of the council in the cabinet of Prime Minister Clement Attlee, and leader of the House of Commons.

"Anna Will Fix It"

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 6.—It was getting on toward lunch-time and only one Senator—Wayne Morse of Oregon—was still on duty at the Senate manpower hearing when the final witness finished giving testimony. It's too bad that the other subcommittee members—Senators Johnson of Texas, Chapman, Kefauver, Hunt, Bridges and Saltonstall—had to be elsewhere. They'd have heard enough to make them very skeptical about the Defense Department's ability to handle military manpower.

For the witness, William H. Neblett of Los Angeles and Washington said a great deal that needed to be heard, even though some of his vehemence had to be discounted. Neblett, a past president of the Reserve Officers' Association, was not an unbiased witness. He was a special pleader for the Swiss-type plan of universal citizen-soldier training and violently against what he termed the Prussian-type system of a large national army under a powerful, professional General Staff. Like all zealots for a pet project, Neblett sometimes went off the deep end of prejudice. But on his central argument—that the U. S. armed forces are grossly overstaffed at the top levels—he was factual and convincing.

Had Unneeded Staff

Neblett, who saw field service in both world wars, told how he returned to Washington after V-J Day and served as a chair-borne Colonel in the legislative-and-liaison division of the Air Force at the Pentagon. He had a personal staff of two civilian secretaries and 30-odd officers and men. But at no time in two years, said Neblett, did he ever have enough work to keep himself and one secretary busy.

No one who knows the Pentagon will have any reason to doubt this testimony. At the outbreak of the Korean War we were able to collect only 10 skeletonized divisions. But there were enough officers with the rank of major and above to staff nearly 40 divisions. The weight of brass hats has made our armed services almost comically topheavy. And the Pentagon's method of using the military skills and specialties is enough to give any taxpayer the shudders.

Here's Convenient Example

As a convenient example, let us take Room 3-E-765 where the Pentagon's very efficient and courteous public information service is established. There is a total of 226 persons on duty here, and 91 of them are armed services personnel. From their ribbons and insignia, many of the men have been to battle and acquitted themselves with honor. But from three-star generals down to one-stripe privates, they are all doing the sort of paper work which could be done just as well—maybe much better—by women and over-aged reservists.

It will not do to condemn this system out of hand. Pentagon spokesmen call it "rotation of duty." They say that it helps a skilled aviator, ship commander or artilleryman to spend some time at desk work. It is also true that some of the Pentagon personnel—although mostly enlisted men—have recently been sent to more active posts. Two of the three non-coms who formerly helped their officers at the daily press briefing are now in Korea. Most of the soldier-chauffeurs at the motor pool have been replaced by WACs. But there is still an enormous amount of displaced skill and do-little brass at these unwarlike jobs.

Testifies Ratio Is Four To One

Gen. Marshall has testified that the ratio between paper-pushers and gun-toters is four to one. But this only accounts for persons in uniform. If we add the number of civilians who work for the Defense Department, the ratio rises to about 10 to 1.

Let's face it. What we have at present is a "Mexican" Army—too much glittering brass at headquarters and not enough fighting men for the line. Pentagon spokesmen are not apt to deny this when pressed with the facts, and some of them recently have a new answer: "Anna will fix it," they say.

They're referring to Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, the very alert and able Assistant Defense Secretary, who's a manpower efficiency expert. She is now busy at trying to sell Congress on the new draft provisions. When that's over, she had better get back to the Pentagon and start a real housecleaning.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

As you who have read this column for any length of time know, I have predicted a number of times that there will be no World War III—at least not in the foreseeable future.

Several readers have asked me "How do you know?"

I don't know. But I do have complete faith in the ultimate strength and common sense of America.

I do not pray to God not to let us get into a war. God does not make wars. We do.

But I DO pray to Him to give us back our good old American heritage of faith, courage, unity, the will to stand up for our rights.

If I am wrong in my optimism, the worst that can happen is an atomic bomb dropping on me.

If it does, I won't be here to tell the tale.

So that is that.

Now comes another fellow to back me up.

He has made more accurate predictions in sports than anyone else I know.

In my book he is the best sports writer in the country.

His name is Bill Corum. He knows no more about statesmanship, politics, strategy or diplomacy than I do.

But he does know HUMAN NATURE.

I know he won't mind if I swipe something from one of his sports columns.

Listen to Bill Corum: "I personally don't believe there is going to be another world war by April, June, July, August or at any specific date on which any man alive can put his finger."

"Even if there must be, however, to approach it as if we Americans were a lot of old maids locked up in a room with a mouse, is the absolute limit of nonsense and folly."

"We heard about Russia's hundred armored divisions as if a hundred armored divisions was the most fearsome military might that history has known. Nobody mentions that in June of 1918 Germany had 238 divisions on the western front. And lost. That four months later they were high-tailing it for the Rhine."

"Do none of these commentators remember the Russia of the first world war? Or of the second, when they won a snow-check from Hitler, as they had from Napoleon?"

"Who has mentioned the history of China in war is of mercenaries, underfed and under-armed?"

"Have these people no fears? No problems? You wouldn't think so

Let's Look At The A-Bomb, Can We Survive Attack?

(Foreward. In the present unsettled condition of the world, the possibility of all out war and the development of atomic weapons, there is a widespread feeling of alarm in the minds of most of the people in the peace loving world. Chief among the fears perhaps is that concerning the use of the atomic bomb. Hysterical writers have pictured a gloomy picture of the after effects of the bomb but unfortunately many of their predictions have been based upon nothing more substantial than fear.

As a public service, many newspapers, particularly in Pennsylvania, are preparing a series of articles based upon knowledge given the writers by scientists of the Atomic Energy commission.

The following article is the first of a series of six such articles the New Castle News will publish. It is written by a layman for reading by laymen. The articles make no attempt to be scientific, they are merely an attempt to translate into laymen's language, those things concerning atomic energy which they have learned from first hand association with the scientists.)

Since the dawn of civilization, man has constantly striven to advance his own interests through invention and discovery of labor saving devices, and medical preparations that would allay pain and prolong life.

Usually the development of a labor saving device or a preparation that would make life more livable or interesting has also meant the development of something that would kill people.

When the ancient savage devised his first bow and arrow it was a step towards the elimination of danger in procuring his meat. Instead of grappling with a meat animal with a stone club he could stand off at a distance and shoot the animal.

Handy of course, but shortly he found he could also kill his enemy the bomb would poison springs, and rivers and lakes for a hundred years or more. That is not so.

They told us that mutations would result in humans and animals and plants and that the world might be peopled with monsters as the result of the rays. No such thing has happened in Japan and scientists have been zealously watching human and animal developments since the bomb was dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

They told us plant life would not grow, for generations on ground that had been bombed, that life in such an area would be impossible for years.

Many of our fears have been groundless. This is not to suggest that the atomic bomb is not a devastating thing. It is, horribly so, and such bombs made today are even deadlier than the original ones.

But they are not the all-inclusive weapons of destruction, both immediately and following their explosion we have been led to believe.

There is hope founded upon fact, that survivors of an atomic explosion will be free from serious after effects. Not for those in the immediate area of devastation perhaps, or what is known as "ground zero" but for those three, four or more miles removed from the center of the explosion.

It is for the purpose of allaying potential hysteria and presenting facts as we have found them from the atomic scientists that this and succeeding articles are being published.

For these facts we are indebted to the Atomic Energy commission and the scientists of The Pennsylvania State college.

As a reader we believe they will be of value to you. It is suggested that you read them and then save them for reference.

Tomorrow we will discuss the events leading up to the development of the bomb and some fragmentary information upon what makes it tick.

Only de-classified information can be used, that is, only information which has been cleared for distribution by the Atomic Energy commission. There is much information of such a confidential nature that to disclose it would imperil our national safety.

This information is locked in the minds of the scientists where it properly belongs. No useful purpose could be served by disclosing to the world just what our scientists know.

Some of that has been done by traitors but there is still much information that is known only to scientists banded together in the free world.

Contribution Of Canada Air Power

OTTAWA, Feb. 6.—(INS)—Defense Minister Brooke Claxton says Canada's "most substantial" contribution to Gen. Eisenhower's European command will be air power.

Claxton, outlining a three-year, five billion dollar defense program to the Canadian parliament last night, said Canada will send an air division of 11 fighter squadrons to Europe.

The proposed defense outlay will be the highest in peacetime in Canada's history. He said that altogether Canada will have 40 fighter squadrons equipped with the latest jet craft and will add 3,000 planes to its air armada.

The defense minister added that Canada will send an army brigade to Europe this year while participating in the United Nations war actions in Korea.

Gen. MacArthur Has No Authority To Use Chinese Troops

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(INS)—The U. S. joint chiefs of staff confirmed today that use of Chinese Nationalist troops to aid the U. N. fight in Korea was one of the possible courses of action outlined in messages to Washington by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The joint chiefs stated, however, that the U. N. supreme commander has never advocated use of the Nationalist forces in Korea.

The Defense department made no comment on whether MacArthur's plan was to create a diversionary attack on the Communist-held Chinese mainland by Nationalist forces from Formosa.

The State department informed defense officials today that Gen. MacArthur does not have authority to use troops from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's island stronghold either in Korea or on the mainland.

Gen. Eisenhower Is Back At Columbia

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was back at Columbia university today for a week's rest after his tour of North Atlantic pact countries. The supreme commander of the allied European armies is staying at his home just off the Columbia campus. He is on leave as president of Columbia.

Life's Tasks Receive Woman's Club Attention

"Things we face in life baffle us and we all attempt to build a better life for ourselves and our family, but what a marvelous thing to be free to do what our conscience dictates." So stated Rev. Russell J. Humbert, minister of the Trinity Methodist church, Youngstown, Ohio, as he talked to members of the New Castle Woman's club at their meeting on Monday afternoon in the Highland United Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Wilbur Flannery, president, opened the meeting with the group singing "America" and introduced Mrs. Charles Lumley, a member of the program committee. Mrs. Lumley presented Miss Delores DeLorenzo who received her M. A. degree at the University of Michigan and was a member of that faculty for two years. To the delight of the group, Miss DeLorenzo played a selection of Schubert and of Bach at the piano.

Several Works
Guest speaker of the afternoon, Rev. Humbert, was introduced by Mrs. Lumley. The well known minister has degrees from College of Wooster, Boston University and Mt. Union college, and has been cited for his outstanding civic and religious work in Toledo, Akron, Youngstown, Ohio, and the nation. Beginning his talk he said "I have come to think with you today about some important tasks which we face today. It's easy to talk with women, but I never win an argument, for you see, I am the father of three daughters and the husband of one wife."
"However, let us consider several things about which we should do some 'straight thinking.' First of all let us think about God. We're all trying to write an equation of life and be able to live with each other and ourselves. Your God and my God may be different, but He should be taken out of being a mere blur of good will and become a real thing to us. Nations have disintegrated because of poor spiritual life."

"Secondly," said Rev. Humbert, "we should do some straight thinking about ourselves. I haven't too much trouble being understood by my family, but my greatest problem is myself. Tennyson once said 'self-reverence, self-knowledge and self-control'—these lead to power." In other words, think well of yourself, (for who else will know what you can and cannot do, and have the ability to control yourself in situations. A third task we face is that of the kind of choices people are making for themselves. We are confronted with young people who are choosing professions without much adult help, and many fields today lack good workers for that reason."

Kind Of Homes
Continuing, the guest speaker stated, "we should do straight thinking about the kind of home we are building. There is not a more sacred thing than for two young people to plan to walk through life together 'till death do part.' If you want to get a good picture of what a young woman's home will be like, just take a look at her mother. She may have a few more frills about but the basic ideas will be the same."
In conclusion Rev. Humbert said, "we should think about what kind of a world we are building and what type of social life we have with each other. Plan to live life as if it were to be lived normally, living one day at a time and taking one thing at a time as it comes along. Robert Russell Wicks of Princeton university once said that the goal of life is to 'cooperate with each other to help the best things we know become a reality."

Mrs. Flannery thanked Rev. Humbert in behalf of the club for his excellent, thought-provoking discussion. A business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Flannery. Hostesses for the afternoon included Miss Pearl Hutchison, Mrs. E. J. King, Mrs. Donald McFall, and Mrs. George Muffley.

Claims Hydrogen Bomb To Be Tested Within 9 Or 10 Months

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 6.—(INS)—A claim that the hydrogen bomb is to be tested at Bikini "some time in the next nine or 10 months" was made last night by Julian Hartt, staff writer for the Los Angeles Examiner, in a dispatch from Las Vegas.

Hartt said he had obtained the information exclusively, but he did not identify his source.

He reported that the atomic explosions on the test range north of Las Vegas did not involve any try-out of atomic weapon. He wrote:

"What is under test is strictly the 'trigger mechanism' for the hydrogen bomb, which, of course, will not be tested here."

Over Five Feet Of Snow Has Been Noted This Winter

According to the records of U. S. Weather Observer B. F. Johnson, over five feet of snow has fallen so far this winter, which is probably an all-time record for this section.

In November, the downfall was 38.6 inches; in December, it was 7.8 inches; and in January, it was 9.8 inches. So far this month, over three inches of snow has fallen, which would make over five feet.

How nearly this compares with the normal amount of snowfall, is not definitely known, but a comparison was made for the three month period by checking back on the winters of 1933-4 and 1934-5.

In November of 1933, the snowfall amounted to 7.4 inches, and in November of 1934, it was but 3.3 inches. In December of 1933, there was 6.5 inches and in December of 1934 there was 4.3 inches. In January of 1934, only an inch and a half of snow fell, and in January of 1935 it amounted to 2.7 inches.

Thus in the winter of 1933 and 1934, only 15.4 inches of snow fell during that three-month period; while in 1934 and 1935 it only amounted to 10.3 inches. In other words, in the winter of 1933 the snowfall was only one-fourth of what it was this year, and in the winter of 1934 it was only one-sixth. To make a further comparison, more than twice as much snow has fallen so far as fell in the two previous winters cited.

Miller, treasurer of the membership committee, who announced that there are now over 1200 members and Mrs. Frank Christoffer, chairman of the sponsors' committee, who announced that at present all children of the home are sponsored, but there is a waiting list for those interested in becoming a sponsor.

The constitution and by-laws which were prepared by Mrs. James W. Moorehead and read at a previous meeting, were accepted last night.

It was reported that a linen cupboard is now being built at the home. A recommendation was made by the board that bids be taken for redecorating the office and living room of the home.

The next meeting date of the auxiliary will be announced.

Minister Feels Good Again

HADACOL Supplies Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron Which His System Lacked

Here is something worth remembering. When you are not feeling well, you are unable to accomplish very much, your working power is limited, your ambition is decreased and you feel like you want to quit doing anything.

F. M. Garrett, Route 1, Box 28-A, Starke, Fla., is a minister and when he began feeling bad, he did something about it. Rev. Garrett began taking HADACOL and he says he now feels good. HADACOL supplied Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in which his system was deficient.

Here is what Rev. Garrett says about HADACOL:

"I am a minister, 76 years old, and can truthfully say that HADACOL was a God-send to me as I had been sick, could not sleep, and could not eat anything without suffering much pain. I was not able to work any and I felt bad all the time. One of my brothers-in-law said: 'Why don't you get some HADACOL and take it?' I did, and now I feel like a different man and can work all day. That has been 5 months ago. Before I took half the bottle. I could tell a wonderful change had taken place for the better. I can gladly recommend it to anyone."

Pleas Are Made For Milk Price Increase

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 6.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Milk commission today heard pleas of Pittsburgh district producers and dealers for an increase in the price of milk which would be passed on to the consumer.

It was the second in the series of three one-day "blitz" hearings in western Pennsylvania. At a hearing in Erie yesterday, dairymen and retailers asked for price boosts that would up the cost of milk as much as two cents a quart in the Erie, Pittsburgh and Johnstown-Altoona districts.

A meeting of the commission is scheduled for Hollidaysburg tomorrow.

Producers want a hike of a cent and a fraction a quart, and dealers are asking a fraction of a cent a quart boost.

The raise request of producers amounts to 69½ cents a hundredweight. A 40 per cent hundredweight increase would raise the retail price one cent a quart.

Mrs. Geraldine Logan, aged 28 years, of the same address was also treated for a contusion of the right leg, received in the same accident.

Parcel Post Can Be Accepted For Points Near Here

Postmaster William R. Hanna stated today that parcel post is being accepted here for delivery to any point which is not affected by the mail embargo now in force.

Any parcels which do not go through terminals such as Pittsburgh and Cleveland can be accepted, but if the parcels have to go through those terminals, they cannot be taken. For instance, packages are being accepted for delivery to towns this side of Pittsburgh, or this side of Cleveland, but not for Pittsburgh or Cleveland itself.

In like manner, packages can be sent to Youngstown, Sharon, Mercer, Grove City, but cannot be sent to Butler, because Butler mail must go through the Pittsburgh terminal.

Catholic Churches Plan For Observance Of Lent

Lent, one of the most important seasons of the liturgical year, begins in the Roman Catholic church on Ash Wednesday, February 7.

With the four Sundays of Lent and Passion and Palm Sunday deducted, there are only 36 penitential days in the six complete weeks of Lent, so that in order to obtain the full number of 40 days, the four days preceding the first Sunday of Lent are added, thereby making the Lenten season begin on a Wednesday.

Lent In Two Parts

Lent divided itself into two parts. The first commences on Ash Wednesday and ends on Passion Sunday. The second and more solemn part extends from Passion Sunday until noon of Holy Saturday, the end of Lent. These two weeks, termed "the great fortnight", are called Passion Time. The many changes in the liturgy in Lent serve to show the mind of the church that the spirit of penance has become more intense in this season.

The solemnization of marriage is forbidden. The liturgical color is purple, the sign of penitence. Altars remain bare of flowers and decorations. Except for the fourth Sunday in Lent and before the Gloria of the mass on Holy Thursday and after the Gloria on Holy Saturday, the organ is silent nor is any musical accompaniment allowed unless necessary to support the singing.

Most pronounced, however, are the changes in the celebration of the Lenten mass. Purple vestments are used. The Gloria and Alleluia are suppressed. Special prefaces are said, one for the first part of Lent, another for Passion time. A prayer is added after the post-communion oration called the "Prayer Over the People", beginning with this call to humility, "bow down your heads before God".

Forty-Day Fast

That Lent should be a 40-day fast seems to have been influenced by the Biblical examples of Moses, Elias and most particularly our Lord. Moses fasted for 40 days on Mt. Sinai in the desert, Elias on Mt. Horeb and our Lord prepared for His ministry by fasting 40 days in the desert.

The English word Lent, coming from the Teutonic word for spring, actually carried no indication in itself of a season of 40 days as do the Latin term and its derivatives in other languages. Though the spirit of Lent has remained always as one of penance through prayer and fasting, the severity of the observance of the Lenten fast has suffered its changes.

Regardless of how well one is capable to observe the externals of the Lenten penance, the spirit of Lent still remains to remind one of the necessity of penance for sin to make effective in the sinner the work of redemption.

Lenten Rules

All the faithful, unless exempt or legitimately dispensed, are bound to observe the fast of Lent from Ash Wednesday, inclusive until noon, Holy Saturday. In a Lenten letter published by the Most Rev. Bishop John F. Dearden, rules of the Lenten season are announced.

Two distinct obligations are met in the church's regulations for Lent.

1. The law of abstinence, binding upon all who have passed their seventh birthday, prohibits the use of meat and meat soups.

2. The law of fasting, to be observed by all between the ages of 21 and 59, inclusive, limits the quantity of food which may be taken. Under the law of fasting only one full meal may be taken in the day, either at noon or in the evening. In addition to this principal meal, there may be taken a light breakfast consisting of a beverage and a moderate portion of bread; and also a lunch (or supper) which may not exceed in quantity one-fourth of the principal meal. Meat may not be eaten at breakfast or lunch.

All the weekdays of Lent are days of fasting. On the Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays of Lent, except Ember Saturday and Easter Saturday until noon, meat may be taken at the principal meal. The use of meat is permitted also at the principal meal on Wednesday of Holy Week.

The Wednesdays of Lent (except Wednesday of Holy Week), all Fridays, Ember Saturday and Holy Saturday until noon, are days of abstinence as well as fasting. The use of meat is prohibited on these days.

All Catholics unless duly exempt are under serious obligation to observe the laws of fasting and abstinence. Those who suffer from ill health or who would be unable without great hardship to perform their regular duties if they fasted, are clearly excused. Those who are in doubt about their obligation to comply with these laws should refer the matter to their pastors.

By virtue of an indulgent of the Holy See, working people engaged at hard labor are permitted to eat meat once a day on days of abstinence throughout the year, except all Fridays, Ash Wednesday and Holy Saturday until noon. This dispensation from abstinence does not include a dispensation from fasting, where such an obligation exists.

Those excused or dispensed from the obligation of fasting or abstinence should perform some voluntary works of self-denial. The time for observing the precept of Easter communion will extend from the first Sunday of Lent to Trinity Sunday.

Lent is a season of penance. No entertainment or social programs may be sponsored by parishes or Catholic societies during this time.

LOOK FOR LABELS WHEN YOU BUY CLOTHING

Even after you have tried on an article of clothing, checked the finishes, and examined the material, there is still other information you need to know before you buy the garment. Labels can give you the hidden or invisible characteristics of the clothing.

Many things you cannot see can be told simply and briefly on a label. Even experts cannot tell whether material will fade or shrink just by looking at it. Style and becomingness are lost when material is not serviceable. It is the manufacturer who knows most about these hidden characteristics of his product. The best way for him to pass the information along to the consumer is through an informative label on the goods.

What should a label tell? First, what the material or fiber content is so the consumer may really know what she buys. There is a law requiring all wool to be labeled to show if it is 100 per cent pure virgin wool, or reprocessed, or re-used wool. Another law requires rayon fabrics to be labeled viscose, acetate, benberg, or a blend or mixture. Nylon is also labeled, making it easier for the consumer to care for the garment.

It is helpful if a label indicates how the article has been made and how it will perform. Suggestions for its use and directions for its care will add to its serviceability.

The brand name, with the name and address of the manufacturer or distributor, will make it easy to identify the product again.

Wise consumers look for and read labels, then they buy.

HAIR SCOURING POWDERS DAMAGE SOME SURFACES

Wrong kind of scouring powder for the surface on which it is used can do a lot of damage in your house. For instance, if you use to harsh an abrasive on porcelain, you may set up a vicious cycle of work. The abrasive scratches the porcelain surface, more dirt collects in grooves formed, and more scouring is needed to get rid of the dirt.

Harsh powders may be used safely on tile, ceramic, cement, and terrazzo floors and walls. At times it may be necessary to use them on iron skillets to loosen and remove stubborn burnt-on food particles.

Some scouring powders are labeled as follows: "This scouring cleanser should not be used on glazed tile, porcelain, enamel, plated, or polished metal surfaces, silverware, chinaware, or marble other than floors." If your scouring powder is not so labeled, you can test it on an inconspicuous part of the surface you want to clean.

Harshness can result from three characteristics of scouring cleansers, hardness, size, and shape of particles. Abrasives used in cleansers range from soft material, such as pumice, to much harder material like silica. Particles of smaller size are kinder to surfaces, while rounded particles are better to use than those with sharp edges.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 6.—Shirley Douglas said today that her can-can dancing days are over and that starting this month she is strictly a career girl with nothing on her mind but turning out lots of copy on her movie publicity job.

The daughter of Robert Douglas, the former ambassador to the Court of St. James, draws her first $100 paycheck from RKO-Radio studio on Saturday and she will frame it.

"After all," says Sharman, the darling of London society for four years and confidante of Princess Margaret Rose, "it is the first money I ever earned and I want to keep the check as a souvenir."

Stardust Pay Off
Sharman studied shorthand and typing and other things along that line in a business course she took while she was in London. She reckoned that it would come in handy sometime and, sure enough, the studying paid off when she was offered the RKO publicity job.

Sharman is going to beat the drum for "Androcles and the Lion," which starts shooting Friday with her actress-friend Jean Simmons starring in it. It will be old home week all the way around because Gabriel Pascal, the British producer, is making the picture.

Sharman's first chore in connection with the picture was to accompany Jean out to the wild animal compound at Thousand Oaks where Hollywood gets its snakes, panthers, elephants, lions and monkeys for movies.

The two girls picked out the lion that will have a major role in the picture. Sharman described the lion as "a shaggy thing with tremendous teeth."

Lion Not Nervous
She posed Jean in a number of publicity shots with the lion, who did not seem to mind the goings on one bit after he got over his first spasm of nervousness over the popping flash bulbs.

Sharman said that she hears from the London gang from time to time and that they all wish her luck as a career girl. She is a bit chary about mentioning whether the Princess Margaret Rose had sent her a letter. Sharman thinks that it would not be good taste to comment on the party-going member of the royal family.

Created Sensation
Sharman, the princess and a bevy of other London beauties created a sensation when they negotiated the naughty can-can dance at an embassy party. The new publicist claims that those days are gone forever and that while she is in Hollywood—and she hopes it is a long time—she is going to shy away from the limelight.

Sharman lives quietly in a two-room apartment not far from the studio. She numbers among her intimates such Britishers as Deborah Kerr and Tony Bartley, the Stewart Grangers (Jean Simmons) and a few others.

Reports that Peter Lawford is flying back from Australia to spend Valentine's day with her, just brings a horse laugh from Sharman. "Peter and I are just good friends," she declares.

St. Vitus Holy Name Has Smoker

St. Vitus Holy Name society enjoyed a "smoker" Sunday in conjunction with their regular meeting in the church hall. Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita opened the meeting with prayer.

President Dr. John Prioletti welcomed all members and due honor was given to past president Dominic Cioffi. Program chairman Paul Failla introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Rev. Fr. V. V. Stancelewski of St. Philip and James church, spiritual director of the Holy Name social of Lawrence county. His talk centered on the purpose of a good strong Holy Name society.

Dr. Prioletti enumerated the activities of the society during the past three years, and attributed the good work to the untiring efforts of the past president and officers. He urged the continuance of such splendid cooperation and achievements.

St. Vitus' spiritual director, Rev. Fr. Raymond Heintz spoke, stressing the slogan "Every Father and Son a Holy Name Member in '51'."

Father DeMita spoke and reminded the group that in 46 years he is getting younger in heart, due to the fulfillment of his two youthful dreams, namely: building of a St. Vitus parochial school and organizing a strong Holy Name society.

Dominic Cioffi was presented with a large picture frame photograph of himself, which is to be displayed in the Holy Name society room in the new school building. He also received an official Holy Name label button for being a past president.

Mr. Cioffi responded graciously, expressing his appreciation for the honors bestowed upon him. He also attributed his success to the members and officers who cooperated with him. A sports movie was later shown and refreshments were served.

Formula For Milk Price Is Offered

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 6.—A formula for giving the farmer the increase he needs without boosting the price of bottled milk to the district's harassed housewives was offered on the eve of a Milk Control Commission hearing here by a representative of the Keystone Milk Producers Association of Western Pennsylvania.

H. D. Rickert of Greenville, Pa., president of Keystone's Central Board, said today:

"The mistaken idea is getting around that, because we are out to gouge the public. If the Milk Control Commission sees its way to changing the classification system, they could give us all we need to operate profitably without increasing the cost of bottled milk."

According to Rickert, the farmer for his milk according to the way they use it. The farmer, he said, gets much less for the milk used in manufacturing ice cream or cheese products than for the milk that is resold as Class I—or bottled—milk.

Some large dealers who have a surplus of milk use ice cream for what they call in merchandising a "loss leader," Rickert said. By selling a merchant ice cream at a ridiculously low price, he explained, they induce him to handle their other products.

Although a change in the classification system might result in a slight price increase in items like ice cream, it would be better than boosting an essential foodstuff like milk, said Rickert, who added:

"Babies may like ice cream but they need milk."

Rickert said farmers have asked for this price increase, because of the difficulty of making ends meet is literally forcing them to sell their cows for meat or go out of business.

entirely. A serious shortage of supply is developing in the Pittsburgh milk shed, Rickert warned.

The Keystone president said the farmers have always favored a "break" for the consumer on the grounds that lower prices mean more milk sold. Keystone, he said, was one of the original groups backing a cash-and-carry differential.

Rickert said his organization has consistently maintained that too much of the public's milk dollar goes to the middle man.

"Proof of this," he said, "came during the drivers' strike when many farmers made out better selling milk off the farm at 50 cents a gallon than they were through the dealers."

Steel Operations To Drop This Week Due To Rail Strike

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(INS)—The American Iron and Steel Institute said today that steel industry operations will drop sharply this week as a result of the transportation tie-up in the nation's railroads.

The institute placed production in the week beginning today at 96 and 7-10ths per cent of capacity. This is a decline of more than four points from last week's operating rate of 101 and 3-10ths per cent of capacity. Output this week is expected to total 1,933,100 tons of ingots and steel for castings, as against a record 2,025,000 tons in the preceding week.

A month ago the industry operated at 99 and 1-10th per cent of capacity with an output of 1,980,800 tons. A year ago production amounted to 1,744,200 tons when operations were at 91 and 2 per cent of the industry's capacity rate at that time.

TO BUILD PLANT

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 6.—(INS)—Gulf Oil Corporation today announced it will build the world's largest single unit for manufacturing ethylene at Port Arthur, Texas.

Ethylene is a gas used as a raw material in making chemicals. The new Texas unit will produce nearly two-and-a-half billion cubic feet yearly and increase total production of this chemical component by about 12 per cent in the United States.

Construction will begin within two months. Completion date of the project is scheduled for one year.

He urged the Rotarians to do their part in such duties as they were able to perform. This would include plant protection, fire ward work, first aid and other forms of assistance.

Bart Richard spoke upon the action and effects of the "A" bomb, using as his authority the statement of atomic scientist at a seminar held in State College last week.

Unemployment Office Releases January Figures

Francis Maffei, manager of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service, for Lawrence County, has released statistics concerning employment in Lawrence County for January of 1951.

There were 238 placed in jobs in the county for January, 1951, two in professional-manager positions, 44 in clerical and sales jobs, 61 in skilled fields, 27 in semi-skilled jobs, 76 in unskilled jobs, and 28 in service work. There are still many openings for qualified stenographers and typists.

Unemployment compensation claims showed nine more for January, 1951, than for December, 1950, an increase due to inventories which caused cutbacks and shortages. There were 1130 claims for January, 1951, and 1109 for December, 1950.

The number of active claims on file for those wishing work, for December, 1950, were 1306 and for January, 1951, 1461, an increase, mostly in the female category. Mr. Maffei has explained that many women are now contemplating defense work.

Maffei also believes that the claims load will taper off in the spring when road construction begins.

WHEN DOES THE MAN PAY?

"On what occasions is it necessary for a man to offer to pay when he accidentally meets a woman of his acquaintance in a street car, restaurant, railroad dining car, etc?"

Answer: In this era of equal financial rights, it is becoming less and less customary for a man to pay a woman's way. When they meet entering a street car, if she has her fare ready, she should give it to the conductor. If the man in question pays her fare before she has had time to do so, she should accept without protestation. If their meeting takes place in a railroad dining car or in a restaurant and he suggests they sit together, she should request the waiter to bring her a separate check. No woman should give the idea that she expects every man she accidentally meets to pay her way. Regardless of the circumstances, she should have her purse open and ready to assume her own expenses.

Question: In what order does the bridal party go to the church; how many in one car, etc.

Answer: The bride goes to the church in the car with her father. The bride's mother leaves the house first, alone, or if she wishes she may take one or two of the bridesmaids in her car. The maid-of-honor, the remainder of the bridesmaids and the flower girls follow closely behind in either their own cars or those supplied by the bride's family. The mother's car must have room reserved for the bride's father who will also return in it. The bride's automobile arrives last of the procession and stands at the church door until she and her new husband return to it after the ceremony to drive back to the house for the breakfast or the reception. Cars, of course, call for the bridesmaids and the aid-of-honor and take them to the bride's house, from which they proceed to the church.

Question: I have a sister who is to be married. Should I entertain for her or just give her gifts at other showers?

Answer: Give a tea, dance, a luncheon or a dinner in her honor.

The Sargasso sea was discovered by Columbus in 1492.

FOOD THRIFT

NEW YORK—(INS)—Now here are some tips on how to be thrifty with food. Cauliflower, brussels sprouts and broccoli lose freshness faster than cabbage. So leave them uncut, keep them cold and not too dry. Crisp cookies and crackers soften if kept with bread and cake. Keep them in their own airtight tins or boxes. Honey and chopped or grated vitamin-rich orange peel make a delightful sandwich filling—and a healthy one.

New State Office Proposed In Bill Before Legislature

HARRISBURG, Feb. 6.—(INS)—The joint state government commission's blueprint for establishing a state office of accountant general with cabinet rank was before the general assembly today.

The plan, designed to improve fiscal efficiency in the commonwealth, is embodied in legislative amendments introduced by Senators Henry J. Probert (R) Montgomery, and G. Graybill Diehm (R) Lancaster.

The proposals would:

- (1) Take pre-auditing powers away from the auditor general and leave him with only post-auditing jurisdiction. Pre-auditing involves approval of transactions before they are made, while post-auditing entails a check following transactions.

- (2) Place pre-auditing powers in the hands of an accountant general who would be appointed by the governor. The auditor general is an elective post.

- (3) Employ an accrual rather than a cash method of accounting in all departments so that financial status will be evident at any time and deficit purchasing may be avoided. Briefly, an accrual system is more up-to-date than a cash system and takes more items into consideration.

JSCG spokesmen explained to newsmen yesterday that an accountant general armed with pre-auditing responsibility could "expedite administrative financial policies."

By removing the function from the auditor general, the spokesmen said, he could serve better as a "watchdog" over state financial transactions because he had no part in approving them originally. Further, they pointed out, placing pre-auditing in the hands of an officer subject to appointment by the governor would eliminate the possibility of an uncooperative or unconvinced auditor general bucking administrative purchasing desires.

Eleven Referees In State Compensation Work Are Confirmed

HARRISBURG, Feb. 6.—(INS)—Eleven workmen's compensation referees are free today of the executive nominations dispute in the State Senate which derived them temporarily of their salaries.

The referees, each receiving $7500-a-year, were confirmed unanimously last night by the Senate after Democrats and Republicans went to great lengths to blame each other for the delay.

Senate majority leader John M. Walker claimed the names were not submitted "earlier," presumably prior to a three weeks recess which ended yesterday, because Democratic leaders had informally advised the GOP that the dispute over Gov. John S. Fine's cabinet precluded approval of any executive nomination.

Acting Democratic minority leader John J. Haluska replied that Republicans had made no effort to ascertain that the minority bloc was not opposed to approval of necessary appointments other than the cabinet.

Confirmed in their appointments until January, 1955, were Howard G. Stutzman, of Tower City; A. E.

Dillman, of Glenshaw; J. Ross Foust, of Greensburg; Percy A. Patterson, of Altoona; Jesse G. Smith, of Warren; Curtis B. Haines, of Pittsburgh; Hobson R. Reynolds, of Philadelphia; Charles J. Bufalino, of Pittston; John Shel-drake, of Roxborough; John Alesandroni, of Philadelphia, and Joseph P. Olexy, of Plymouth.

The referees were removed from the state payroll after the mid-January pay period because their commissions had expired.

Milk Producers Meet Monday Eve

Plans were also outlined for a membership campaign to be instituted in the near future.

The meeting was presided over by O. L. Lipp, of Little Beaver township, president of the county chapter.

Deadline Is Near For Reports On Farm Conservation

Thompson of the Lawrence County Production and Marketing Administration today reminded all farmers who were enrolled in the agricultural conservation program for 1950, that Thursday, Feb. 15, is the deadline for reporting their 1950 conservation practices in order to receive credit for these practices.

After that date no time slips can be accepted at the county office. These reports may be turned in at the county office, room 202, courthouse annex, any time between the hours of eight a. m. and 12 noon, and one to 4:30 p. m., Mondays through Fridays. The office is not open at any time on Saturday.

State Potatoes Being Sent To Armed Forces

HARRISBURG, Feb. 6.—(INS)—Heavy shipments of Pennsylvania potatoes to the armed forces were reported today by the state Department of Agriculture.

The drain is expected to cut into the one million bushels of potatoes on hand at the end of 1950 in excess of the number still unsold at the end of 1949, according to the department.

Last year's yield of 18,525,000 bushels was valued at $19,451,000, the department reported. In 1949, it was added, 19,158,000 bushels were valued at $25,097,000.

The department said growers "were not discouraged" by the excess of potatoes. Pennsylvania potato growers abandoned federal subsidies for their 1950 crop.

"According to estimates of the federal-state crop reporting service," stated the department, "Pennsylvania potatoes remaining for sale on January 1 were estimated at 9,120,000 bushels, compared with 8,000,000 bushels on January 1, 1950. Leading growers report to the department that the high quality of the 1950 crop is causing a heavy movement to the United States army and that growers in some areas of the state are completely sold out."

"Pennsylvania potato growers saved an estimated 821,000 bushels from the 1950 crop to be used as seed this year on farms where the potatoes were grown. This compares with 645,000 bushels reserved from the 1949 crop for planting in the spring of 1950," the department reported.

"The total quantity of potatoes from the 1950 Pennsylvania crop that had been sold or still to be sold on January 1, 1951 for food, seed, feed and processing is estimated to be 14,479,000 bushels. This is four per cent less than the 15,089,000 bushels estimated to have been sold from the 1949 Pennsylvania crop."

It is estimated the Leaning Tower of Pisa in Italy will lean three inches more in the next 100 years.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Erskine lounged into the office and hour late for the third time in one week and found the boss awaiting him, arms akimbo. "What's the story this time, Erskine?" he asked sarcastically. "Let's hear a good excuse for a change."

Erskine sighed. "Everything went wrong this morning, boss. The wife decided to drive me to the station. She got ready in 10 minutes, but then the drawbridge got stuck. Rather than let you down, I swam across the river, took my suit's still damp, ran out to the airport, got a hitch in Mr. Harriman's helicopter, landed on top of Radio City Music Hall, and was carried here piggy-back by one of the ushers."

"You'll have to do better than that, Erskine," said the boss, obviously disappointed. "No woman can get ready in 10 minutes."

The scrubwoman of a branch bank uptown demanded a raise in salary, pointing out to the twenty-fourth—or was he twenty-fifth?—vice-president. When I began working here these floors were in mighty bad shape. But since I been doing them, three depositors has fallen down."

Demand Minimum Of 6-Months Training Before Any Combat

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(INS)—The house armed services committee considered today demanding a minimum of six months training for inductees before they see combat.

Such a provision may be written into the pending draft bill coupled with a prohibition against drafting men until they are 18½ years old. That would insure that no men would go into battle until they are at least 19 years old and would provide the loophole congress generally is looking for to keep from drafting 18-year-olds.

GETTING THEIR OWN LUNCHES

The O'Brien tribe—four of them, running from four to ten years of age—is as the neighbors say, "quite a group". In spite of their youth, they seem to know how to do things for themselves. And they do them well.

Take lunches, for instance. On Saturdays Mrs. O'Brien lets them get their own food. Most children would pick up anything there was in the refrigerator, eat it on the run and generally do an unsatisfactory job of it. But not the O'Briens.

Their mother has briefed them on ways of selecting foods. On the kitchen wall is a Basic Seven Food Chart which she got from the United States Department of Agriculture. There are attractive pictures of the different sorts of food that should be in a good diet. After a little coaching, the youngsters have learned to select from this chart the "right" kinds of food. They seem to get "a great kick" out of having a well-balanced lunch.

And from four-year-old Timmy to ten-year-old Ellen, they have their jobs to do. Timmy can scrape carrots with a patented scraper that won't cut fingers. Michael is a can-opening expert and prepares hot things, such as cocoa, soup, etc. Each of the others has some special job.

And the thing they like most is to put an attractive and nourishing lunch before their mother and then sit down and eat with her.

Accidents In U.S. Take Huge Toll Last Year

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—(INS)—Accident of all types decreased in the U. S. by one per cent during 1950 but still exacted a ghastly toll of nearly nine million casualties—including 90,000 deaths—and cost of the nation more than seven billion dollars.

The startling figures were included today in the annual estimate prepared by the National Safety Council which reported that the decrease represents a savings of 1,000 lives from the 1949 total.

Motor vehicle deaths continued to head the list as the nation's chief accident killer. Home mishaps ranked second.

Peak auto production and record travel during the year sent traffic deaths upwards by an alarming 11 per cent to 35,000, the top highway toll since 1941.

Home accidents declined 11 per cent and non-vehicle accidents in public places dropped 10 per cent. Increased employment and industrial activity sent occupational mishaps upward by three per cent.

The 1950 all-accident death rate dropped from 61.2 in 1949 to 59.9 per hundred thousand population in 1950 for the lowest rate on record, but one out of every 17 persons in the country suffered a disabling injury.

Huge Economic Loss

The economic loss, estimated at $7,700,000,000 covers both fatal and non-fatal accidents and includes wage loss, medical expense and overhead costs of insurance for all accidents, production delays, damage to equipment in industry and property damage from traffic accidents and fires.

The death toll in home accidents was 27,500 for 1950 and disabling injuries numbered 4,100,000. Occupational deaths of 15,500 workers accounted for the three per cent rise while all-industry employment rose two per cent and manufacturing employment was up five per cent.

Public non-motor vehicle deaths numbered 14,000 with the 10 per cent decrease from 1949 occurring among persons above 14 years of age. The largest reduction was in drownings.

Air Line Fatalities

Four fatal accidents in domestic operations of scheduled air lines claimed 109 lives making the death rate 1.2 per 100 million miles, slightly less than last year.

Railroad accidents resulted in 2,065 deaths, a decrease of three per cent, and injuries dropped seven per cent for a total of 20,465. Trespasser deaths number 784.

Preliminary estimates by the National Board of Fire Underwriters set the property loss from fires at $688,000,000.

Vehicle mileage in 1950 was estimated at 10 per cent higher than 1949 with the death rate amounting to 7.5 per 100 million miles.

Only five states of the 45 reporting complete motor vehicle death tolls had decreases from the 1949 figures. North Dakota headed the list with a 25 per cent reduction. The other four were Pennsylvania, Oklahoma, Minnesota, and Arkansas.

Charges Attempt To Stir Up Cowboy And Indian War

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(INS)—A blackfoot chieftain accused the government's Indian bureau today of trying to stir up "an old-fashioned cowboy and Indian war" on his Montana reservation by offering grazing rights without tribal consent.

The war-cry was sounded by George Pambrun, chairman of the tribal council. He charged that the bureau is auctioning off grazing rights on the reservation illegally because the council has not approved the move.

Pambrun said in a news statement: "The Indian bureau is doing its best to stir up an old-fashioned cowboy and Indian war on the Blackfeet reservation in Montana. I predict that the Indian bureau will not be successful in its efforts to persuade white sheepmen and cattlemen to run their stock on Indian lands and to ignore Indian protests."

"The Blackfeet council has run a series of public advertisements in leading Montana newspapers warning sheepmen and cattlemen to keep their stock off tribal lands unless they secure tribal consent."

The redskin leader said: "Stalin could learn a lot about how to run a dictatorship just by watching the Indian bureau."

Cash Bail Of $9,200 Provided In Case

BOSTON, Feb. 6.—(INS)—Sol Binstock, 31-year-old Brooklyn, N. Y., diamond cutter, was released in $9,200 cash bail after he waived a hearing before a federal commissioner on charges of attempting to export $40,000 in gold bullion.

The amount of bond for Binstock was cut from $25,000 to $9,200 cash bail with the consent of assistant U. S. attorney Edward F. McLaughlin.

Binstock also waived hearing on charges of illegal possession of gold and conspiracy. He was arrested at Logan International airport Jan. 24 as he allegedly was about to start a flight to Madrid and Tangiers with 60 pounds of gold secreted in a vest and three traveling bags.

Authorities alleged that Binstock implicated Rabbi Joel Beer, 29, also of Brooklyn, in the gold smuggling plot. Rabbi Beer was charged with conspiracy to violate the gold reserve act and is being held in $10,000 bail in Brooklyn.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(INS)—The stole, a steal from grandma's day, is coming out in dozens of disguises for next summer.

No longer will a woman face the problem of trying to get the crick out of her elbow after an evening of holding her stole in glamour-position.

Now a woman with a stole can tie-it-on handily.

This summer's stoles, fashioned longer and sheerer than ever before, can be wrapped into place in a number of positions, to add the exotic touch to sheath-slim dresses.

First and foremost, it can be draped around the throat, with its ends running under the back of a belt and flaring toward the hemline like rear floating panels. Or it can be wrapped around the neck, halter-fashion, with the ends criss-crossing the bosom in front and tucking under the belt on either side.

Simplest way of all to wear a frothy stole and not be bothered with shippage is to wrap it around the waist like a sash, anchor it at side-front with a glittering pin, and allow it to sweep below the hem like a dramatic train.

Titans Crush Pitt Panthers At Farrell Floor 91-67

Halas With 34 Points Outstanding Performer

Led by big Ed Halas, whose 34 points set a new individual scoring record for the season, Westminster's Titans trounced the University of Pittsburgh 91-67 last night at Farrell.

The Titan frosh quintet made it a double victory by downing the Pitt freshmen 70-60 in the preliminary contest.

The victory was Westminster's 13th of the season against four setbacks. One of the four losses was to the same Pitt quintet earlier in the season.

Even For 16 Minutes

The game was played on an evenly matched basis for 16 minutes last night with the lead shifting 10 times during the first two periods. The Titans took an early 2-0 lead, dropped it and saw Pitt ahead during most of the first period. The Titans tied up the contest 20-20 at the end of the initial period, after the lead had shifted several times during the last three minutes.

With four minutes left in the first half, Westminster broke loose on a 13 point scoring spree while holding the Jungle Cats to three points and led 44-32 at the half. After that Pitt was never back in the ball game.

The high scoring Titans poured in 34 field goals and 23 foul shots to run up their 91 points. They made 80 per cent of their shots from the foul line and tossed in 39 per cent of field goals attempted. Pitt made 17 of 21 free throws attempted.

Hyder Defensive Star

Halas tossed in 13 field goals and eight free throws to take high scoring honors. He was followed by Pat King with 16, and John Abraham and Don Meyers with 15 each for the Titans. High scorer for Pitt was Yurke who tossed in 19 points. Mike Belich, who led the Panthers in their upset victory over Westminster earlier in the season with 28 points, was held to 11 points last night Titan guard Jerry Hyder who was assigned the job of holding down the Panther scoring area, 91-Westminster, Pitt-67.

Wampum Host To Scotties In Section 23

Eagles Entertain Shenango; Mounties Host To Greyhounds

Union plays at Wampum, New Wilmington at Mt. Jackson, and Shenango at East Brook in Section 23 basketball games tonight.

In a non-league game Bessemer is host to New Brighton.

Both Wampum and Union fans have been waiting for this second meeting of the season between these two teams. The Indians spanked the Scotties badly the first time they met, but Union caught fire as the second half opened and has rolled to easy wins its last two times out.

Coach Butler Henson of Wampum has declared since the beginning of the season that Union was the team that he feared most in the county section, if it started rolling—and it looks like it has.

Regardless of how well the Scotties have been doing of late, however, they will go into the game as definite underdogs.

Mounties At Home
New Wilmington will try to get back on the winning trail at Mt. Jackson. Earlier in the season the Greyhounds took the Mounties 50-40, but since then New Wilmington has faded and the Mounties have come up.

Since the last meeting of the two teams New Wilmington has lost five straight games, and Mt. Jackson has posted a 2-3 record, including a one-point loss to Wampum and a two-point overtime setback by East Brook.

East Brook will try to stem its losing streak when it plays host to Shenango. The Eagles have taken two likings so far in the second half, after posting a 4-2 record in the first half.

Shenango has been an up and down club that has been down its last couple of times out just like the Eagles. In the first meeting between the teams this season East Brook won 51-45.

In case you are slightly confused, what they are seeking to do in the heavyweight division is prove that the Shaughnessy play-off system will work as well in boxing as in baseball or any other sport.

The country needs Joe Louis in the years ahead as a clear thinking leader, as an example of his people. As a punch-drunk fighter he could serve no one, including himself.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rich of Hopwood report they heard loud roars and found large footprints in the snow. Neighbors dashed to the Rich home well-armed and report the basement door of the Rich home was open and prints were visible in the snow just outside the door. The prints were described as too large for a wildcat. Jim Lucas, a trapper, said he believes the paw prints may have been a panther.

Game Protector D. W. Haecox, of Clinton, Pa., says that the recent snows indicate the fox population in southwestern Pennsylvania has not decreased, and signs on the snow show he is very hungry.

"They investigate every brush pile, slab pile, old log, abandoned building, and groundhog hole in their travels," Haecox said.

HUNTERS are now permitted to retain the flesh of wild birds and animals for 60 days after the season in which it was taken.

And those who wish to keep game longer can obtain a $1.00 permit from a field supervisor or game protector, which authorizes them to retain the game flesh for an additional six months.

Increasing popularity of the deep freeze apparently is responsible for the extension.

Hank A.C. And K. Pulaskis Prepare For Saturday Tilt

The long-awaited battle between two of the cities finest independent teams will take place at the Union high school gymnasium Saturday evening at 8:15 p.m. following a preliminary game between the two reserve teams of the respective clubs. The Hank A.C. "Rockets" will meet the K. Pulaskis "Cubs" in the opener at 7:15 p.m.

There has been quite a controversy in trying to get these two fine clubs to meet each other. The Hanks A.C. and the K. Pulaskis haven't had the opportunity as yet to meet each other on the hardwood for the past two years now so a struggle is expected when these two clubs meet.

There always has been the controversy of who possesses the best independent club in this district and the question will be solved Saturday evening.

Hanks Slight Favorites
Comparing the two clubs records to date the Hanks will be slight favorites to come out on top but since this game will have much rivalry it will be hard to determine whether the Hanks really do have what the records indicate.

The "Ted" Kolcz coached quintet will be striving to end the Hanks long winning streak if they manage to go undefeated until their clash with the K. Pulaskis. The Pulaskis will be out to defeat their former Coach Al Gonet who for the past three seasons coached the K. Pulaskis and brought them many championships.

Coach Al Gonet will be striving on his part to whip his former club. In the lineup with the Hanks will be some of the former stars with the K. Pulaskis while Al Gonet was at the helm. John Zubkowsky, Ed Nevotte, Lou Plonka.

The first game has created a lot of interest among the followers of both teams and a large crowd will no doubt be on hand to witness this great tussle Saturday night.

Olympic Group Seeking $75,000
CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—(INS)—The U. S. Olympic Association must raise $75,000 in five days or substantially trim the proposed 125-athlete delegation to the Pan-American games Feb. 25-March 8 in Buenos Aires.

J. Lyman Bingham, association executive director, said yesterday cash pledges have passed the halfway mark for the team's $150,000 budget. Encouraging pledges are trickling in, he added, in response to 140 telegrams recently sent to business firms with South American interests.

Pancho Segura Rated Number 1
NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(INS)—Pancho Segura has been rated the number one professional tennis player in the nation.

Segura was selected for the honor by the Professional Lawn Tennis Association.

Jack Kramer was chosen second, followed by Frank Kovacs, Bobby Riggs, Welby Van Horn, Frank Parker, Carl Earn, James Evert, John Nogrady, and Joseph Fishbach.

Oakland Sportsmen To Meet Wednesday
President Frank Zajac has called an important meeting of the Oakland Sportsmen's club for 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at the Edenburg Club rooms. Purpose of the meeting is to nominate new officers for 1951-52.

It is urgent that all members make it a point to attend this special meeting.

Winless Fallsmen Here Tonight For First 'Parent's Night' Contest

Section III's whipping boy, Beaver Falls High School, moves to New Castle tonight for a "Parent's Night" contest in an effort to break into the league win column.

The New Castle athletic organization has invited as guest tonight the parents of all the Cane basketball players and will, either between games, or an intermission, introduce them as a group.

Tigers in Doldrums
Joe Hetra's squad travels here with nothing at stake, and so everything can be gained by a victory. The downtrodden Valley Tigers have experienced 14 setbacks this year.

Lineup changes have been frequent at Beaver Falls due to injuries, sickness and players dropping out of school.

Duane Ryan and Tom Perrott have led the Fallsmen in scoring this season, and along with Brick, have played as regulars most of the season. Backing up this trio are possible starters Blair, Veon and Barr.

Locals Need Victory
The tallest Tiger is Tom Perrott, who is 6'2".

New Castle, willing of late, needs badly a pickup, and a win from the Fallsmen could possibly set them right for games with Alliquippa, Sharon and Ellwood.

Coach John Milasovich has indicated that Latsko, Bosk, Buckner, McKay and Sansone will constitute the starting five, but that Dick Pila may gain an early game berth.

Jayvees in Prelim
Ambridge revolted against the Cane last week and thrust section loss number five on the locals. Farrell had previously dumped the locals from the league third slot with a convincing win here.

A Cane victory tonight would assure at least a fourth place tie, New Castle's season record is nine wins and seven losses.

Austie Cowmeadow's Jayvees (12-3) square off against the Falls reserves.

Murphy-Matthews To Fight March 2
NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(INS)—The International Boxing Club announced the signing today of Bob Murphy of San Diego, Cal., and Harry Matthews of Seattle, Wash., to meet in a ten round light-heavyweight bout at Madison Square Garden March 2.

The IBC said the winner will get a title shot at light-heavyweight champion Joe Maxim. Matthews, second-ranking lightweight, has scored 55 knockouts in 87 fights. Murphy, ranked third, has recorded 49 knockout wins in 57 fights.

Lady Welders Likely To Come Back In State

By AL SPIVAK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 6.—The lady welders are coming back as Pennsylvania expends its industrial production for emergency needs.

If the industrial pace continues for the next six months one out of three job-holders in the commonwealth will be a woman, reported Mrs. Mary Rice Morrow, director of the Department of Labor and Industry's bureau on women and children.

"The ratio eventually might even become much smaller," she added, "because many service industries will have to employ women almost entirely if the war situation worsens."

A year ago nearly one out of four wage-earners in the state's industries was a woman.

There are many facets to the increase in female workers, said Mrs. Morrow, most connected with the war situation.

"The withdrawal of the 18-25 age group from the labor market is an extremely important factor," she said. "Young men are having a difficult time getting jobs requiring training and women are being accepted in their place."

However, she said, comparatively few of the women employed in industry have taken jobs away from men. Many older men have been placed back on payrolls to take up a manpower slack, she pointed out.

"Nevertheless well over a million wage earners in Pennsylvania are women," she said. Latest total compiled of both sexes holding jobs in the state was 3,736,000.

During World War II it was proved that not only could women do many jobs as well as men but they could do them without injuring their health as long as proper supervision was maintained," Mrs. Morrow said.

The last war showed up glaring faults in the women's labor law which were corrected in amendments enacted by the General Assembly in 1947, she asserted.

"Today we can enter another war production period with our laws, rules and regulations streamlined to meet the situation," she said.

For one thing, she explained, women older than 18 now are permitted to work on a two or three shift basis.

"In the past four months at least 45 major industrial firms were granted permits to employ women on three shifts," she said. "And a great number of emergency permits have been granted for women to work longer hours."

For the most part, she said, this has applied to women working in jobs they were doing all along and no men have been displaced.

"One additional thing I'd like to emphasize is the greater acceptance of older women by employers now," she said.

"At the beginning of World War II companies were reluctant to take women over 35 or 40," she said. "Now they are finding older women of great value in their plant's production and are showing a willingness to hire them."

"The last source that should be tapped is mothers of young children," Mrs. Morrow insisted. "Industries generally are not hiring many at this time. When they do we'll know there's a serious manpower pinch."

HARRISBURG, Feb. 6.—(INS)—Statistical information on Pennsylvania industries compiled by the State Internal Affairs Department was placed on a restriction basis today by Secretary William S. Livingston, Jr.

"Extreme care must be exercised in this period of national emergency to see to it that nothing of any possible use falls into alien hands," said Livingston.
